JULY.

- There's a Beautiful Land by the Spoiler untrod, Unpolluted by sorrow or care;
 It is lighted alone by the presence of God,
 Whose throws and whose temple are there;
 Its crystaline streams with murmuring flow,
 Meander through vallers so green,
 And its mountains of jasper are bright in the glow
 Of a splendor no mortal hath seen.
- And throngs of singers, with jubilant breath,
 Make the sir with their metodies rife;
 And one known on earth as the Angel of Death,
 Shines here as an Angel of Jife!
 An infinite tenderness beams from his eyes,
 On his brow is an infinite calm;
 And his voice as it thrills through the depth of the skies,
 Is as sweet as the karaphim's psalm.
- Through the amaranth groves of the Beautiful Land Walk the souls who are faithful in this; And their foreheads, star-crowned, by the zephyrs are fanned.
- fanned.
 That evermore murmur of bliss;
 They task the rich truitage that hangs from the trees,
 And breathe the sweet odor of flowers
 More fragrant than ever were kissed by the broeze
 In Araby's loveliest bowers.
- Old Prophets, whose words were a spirit of flame
 Blazing out o'er the darkness of Time;
 and martyrs, whose courage no tortures could tame,
 Nor turn from their purpose sublime;
 And Saints and Confessors, a numberless throng,
 Who were loyal to Truth and to Right,
 And left, as they walked through the darkness of Wrong,
 Their footprints encircled with light.
- And the dear little children, who went to their rest
 Ere their lives had been sullied by sin,
 While the Angel of Morning still tarried a guest,
 Their spirits pure temple within;
 All are there—all are there—in the Beautiful Land,
 The land by the Spoiler unired,
 And their forcheads, star-crowned, by the zephyrs are famed
- That blow from the Gardens of God! My soul hath leoked in through the pathway of dream on the city all paven with gold.

 And though it still waite on this desolate strand,

 A pilorim and stranger on earth,

 Yet it knew in that glimpse of the Beautiful Land,

 That it gazed on the home of its birth!

Napoleon is buying horses in Belgium to strengthen in cavalry. There is some speculative activity, and the lending rate is last per cent. The increased excitement to-day at the Stock Exchange is attributed partly to the state of the money market, and partly to the fact that a larger number of investors with capital have been attracted to operations in some of the leading railroad shares, with a view, as is reported, to consummate, at no very distant day, a consolidation of several roads into single trunk lines under a unity of management; so as to secure on the one side efficiency and economy in operating the roads, and on the other side an equitable distribution of the earnings among the stockholders and real owners of the property. The continued reports of good crops have also an influence in imparting a stimu us to the public confidence with which speculative activity in the sensitive values of the stock market is usually associated. I have been for a year or more past in the habit of taking the water of the "Excelsior" Spring of Saratoga. Accustomed during the great portion of my invalid lite to use the different waters of the several fountains which boil up along that remarkable valley, dependent, indeed, upon them for much of the comfort I enjoy, I am satisfied that the Excelsior Water is as well adapted as any other among them, if not more so, to the purposes for which they are generally employed. It is very agreeable, strongly impregnated with the carbonic acid, lively and sparkling. * * I can hearbly and conscientiously recommend it to all who need a gentle catharite and diurctic.
